

MEET DEPUTY CFO DONNA O'NEAL

August 4, 2008

Chief Financial Officer Alex Sink would like to introduce Donna O'Neal, a member of her management team.

Donna was recently promoted to one of three Deputy Chief Financial Officer positions, with the Divisions of Risk Management, Accounting and Auditing, Administration, and Information Services in her oversight responsibilities.

Donna O'Neal joined the Department of Financial Services team as Deputy Chief of Staff in February 2008, working to advance the CFO's financial management and accountability initiatives. Donna came from the Department of Juvenile Justice, having served as Chief of Staff for Secretary Walter McNeil.

O'Neal has more than 20 years experience in state and local government issues, having spent more than a decade with the Florida Department of Revenue in the areas of executive project management, taxpayer education, strategic planning, performance assessment and communications. Previously a capital bureau reporter for the Orlando Sentinel, O'Neal holds a master of arts degree in journalism from the University of Missouri and bachelor's degree in communications from Louisiana State University.

An avid touring bicyclist, O'Neal has ridden across the states of Vermont, Montana, Washington, Georgia, Florida and in Canada.
